REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
  - With regard to claim 9, as the closest reference, the combination of Horie (US 5,640,288) and Kersey et al (US 5,870,245) shows a basic unit, including: housing; recording and playback means; accommodation means; feeding means; and guide means 70 m(Column 19, line 4) provided. in the housing for guiding a movement of the feeding means, control circuit; a flat cable for interconnecting the control circuit section and the feeding means of the basic unit, wherein the flat cable includes a plurality of conductors extending in parallel and joined with an insulating material form an elongated belt; the flat cable being folded at a substantially central portion in a longitudinal direction of the flat cable; but fails to show that the flat cable being held at a portion in proximity to the folded portion by a fold-holding member such that an angle of opposite end portions of the flat cable with respect to the folded portion is variable corresponding to a distance between the control circuit section and the feeding means of the basic unit.
  - Applicant asserts that the fold-holding member would allow the cable not acted upon by a stress as may cause disconnection of the wires (Specification, p. 36, lines 14-16).

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
